Media Creator

About Me

I have always had a creative flare. I started writing when I was in middle school, and then I got into video and audio production in high school. Because of my media degree, I now have a hand in a little bit of everything. I'm a photographer, videographer, video editor, audio editor, writer, website creator, graphic creator (not my strong suit though), and media manager. I have been a part of documentary team, live production team, post-production team, and more creative projects like PSAs, short films, music videos, and promos. I have filmed and taken photos for weddings, senior sessions, church productions, sports games, and more. I have a diverse set of media-related skills. Reach out if you're interested in any of the many services I can provide.

EXPERIENCE

Executive Producer

Revenge of the Drive In August-December 2020

I was the main point of communication between my team and the drive-ins featured in our documentary. I established filming dates. I also composed interview questions, and conducted the on-site interviews. I assisted with the on-site productions, and helped with distribution of the final product.

ASU-TV

I've been involved with A-State's student-led television station since my very first semester. I spent my first semester as a volunteer. I became a producer of Fine Arts at the Fowler for two semesters. In January of 2020, I became the station manager. I stepped down in December of 2021 to prepare for my internship in the Spring of 2022. I managed a team of student producers, I created content, planned events, assisted productions, operated filming equipment, and created CableCast Schedules. I have helped film charity events, ceremonies, competitions, sports events, and more during my time at ASU-TV.
