7-12 EDUCATOR

TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

Over the past four years, through experience and training, I have developed a teaching philosophy that I now live by - every child deserves a fighting chance. I've seen many kids slip through the cracks. While it's not impossible for someone to turn their life around later in adulthood, I do know that they stand a fighting chance of doing so if they're reached early on. Grades 7-12 are a crucial time for teens. This is where they start to come into who they are, and they develop habits they carry with them into adulthood. I want to do what I can to give them a safe space to grow into themselves while also nurturing crucial skills needed to build a productive and happy life outside of public school.

EXPERIENCE

Capstone Internship

Paragould Junior High - Grade 8

January-April of 2022

At the end of this semester, I will have gained over 500 hours of experience. I have taken over teaching 3/6 classes my clinical supervisor teaches. I create lesson plans, implement them, grade assignments, record grades, observe faculty meetings and parent-teacher conferences, as well as assist my clinical supervisor with her classes.

ASU-TV

Arkansas State University

August of 2018-December of 2021

I've been involved with A-State's student-led television station since my very first semester. I spent my first semester as a volunteer. I became a producer of Fine Arts at the Fowler for two semesters. In January of 2020, I became the station manager. I stepped down in December of 2021 to prepare for my internship in the Spring of 2022. I managed a team of student producers, I created content, planned events, assisted productions, operated filming equipment, and created CableCast Schedules.

Media/Music/Children's Ministry Director

Pentecostals of Lake City

October 2019-Current

I started attending church here in mid-fall of 2019, and start helping with the media and music department toward the end of 2020. In January of 2022, I accepted the position of Children's Ministry & Media Director. Now, I sing, play drums or piano, run the live stream, create media content, plan children's events, communicate with Sunday school teachers, assist the Pastor's wife, and teach a class for ages 7-11 on Wednesday nights.
